A MEMORY.

BY BEATRICE.

There is a tideline memory Which steals across my heart, Which may not with the dew-drops flee, Nor with the stars depart;
A thought, which like some foot-print made In embryo rocks, whose clay Receives the impression might can fade, Nor time may wear away.

It oft times comes like zephyrs bland, Across some sun-browned plain;
As to the summer parched land,
The gently dropping rain;
It leaves an odor 'mong the thorns, That wound my weary feet;
It rainsbow still my sky adorns, My tearful gaze to meet.

There is a deathless memory, Whose urn, within my breast, Replenished must forever be In its abiding rest.
I may not smile that this is so, Nor may I weep to see Its constant image—no, ah no!
'Tis 'thou' memory of thee!

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 23, 1856.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—TODAY'S WAREHOUSE AT

PORTLAND.—We understand that the establishment of a tobacco warehouse at Portland is contemplated by some of our citizens. We are gratified at this manifestation of enterprise and energy in that portion of the city. We have been surprised that such a movement was not made long ago. The only objection that has ever been made to it was that perhaps buyers would not go to Portland to attend sales. We do not think this is sufficient to counterbalance the manifold advantages to be realized. The buyers will congregate wherever sufficient inducements are offered to them, and the sales at Portland could be so arranged as not to interfere with those at the other warehouses in the city, while the facilities of access afforded by the Portland Railroad and omnibuses almost entirely remove this single objection.

The establishment of the contemplated warehouse at Portland would be economical to both growers and buyers. A large amount of the tobacco brought to this market comes from Southern Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, and Illinois. It is brought through Portland almost always, and is taxed with drayage to the amount of a dollar or a dollar and a half per hog-head before it reaches the warehouse, and if sold here for the Southern market, another drayage is added to the cost.

If a warehouse was located at Portland, all of the tobacco which may come here from the sources mentioned will escape this double drayage when sold to be shipped South, and when sold to Eastern buyers at least one drayage will be avoided, for it may be forwarded from Portland eastward via the New Albany and Salem Railroad, at the same cost at which it can be sent from any other part of the city. The enterprise is worthy of consideration, and we hope it will be successful.

FUEL FOR THE POOR.—Winter is come and the supply of fuel in our city is still very scant. What there is of it is too costly to be procured by many whose means are limited. The price of coal places it entirely out of the reach of the poor, and there is danger that great suffering will ensue among those who have never before been exposed to such bitter want. Something should be done to procure such a supply of fuel as will provide for the poor during the winter. A charitable correspondent suggests that "our railroad companies ought to be solicited to bring in a quantity of wood for them free of charge to supply their great necessities until coal can be obtained. If they will do so, the money to purchase the wood can be easily procured among our citizens, who never refuse their aid to any benevolent object. A committee should be appointed to collect subscriptions, and the distribution of the wood could be given to the Relief and Employment Society."

The suggestion is a good one. The railroads in other parts of the country have carried fuel for the poor free of charge to the cities to which they lend, and we have no doubt that the Louisville and Frankfort and Louisville and Nashville Companies will cheerfully do so whenever requested.

FROM MEXICO.—The New York papers contain Vera Cruz dates to November 20th. The English difficultly had been arranged in the City of Mexico on the 14th of November. The Mexican Government has submitted to all and every condition asked by the British minister.

President Comonfort left the City of Mexico for Puebla on the 18th ult. He took with him fresh

LECTURES.—THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN AS-

OCIATION.—The effort on the part of the members of the Association to secure a course of lectures for this winter meets, we are told, with much success, although not so much as it deserves. The system of popular lectures is an institution peculiar to the nineteenth century, and it is with pleasure that we see it introduced here. It is calculated to exert a powerful influence on the popular mind, either for good or for evil. Its appeals are made with all the fervor of impassioned eloquence, and the learning of laborious study. Heart speaks to heart, and mind to mind. There is no way in which truth can be so powerfully inculcated as by the direct appeals of the living orator. Indeed, error often seems to wear almost the semblance of truth when thus presented in fresh and vigorous and glowing terms.

It is needful, therefore, that so influential an institution should be well guarded; that it should be under the direction of men who have at heart the welfare of the community, and that it should be directed to the instruction of the people in truth and virtue as well as to afford amusement for the hour. The Association by which this effort is made is worthy to control these lectures, for, without sectarianism, its object is to exert a salutary moral influence upon the community. A course of popular lectures is one of the means which the Association has adopted to effect this purpose. The Association has a right to expect the support of our citizens in this commendable enterprise, and the low price at which they have placed the tickets for this course will enable almost every one to attend.

We hope this course of lectures will be entirely successful, and we also desire to draw attention to the Young Men's Christian Association as an institution in which our citizens should feel a great interest.

It is designed to throw safe-guards around the youth of our city, and by social and religious influences—religious without sectarianism—to draw them away from the haunts of vice and iniquity; by precept and practice to establish virtuous and moral conduct; and to give to the community upright citizens and honest tradesmen. Is there any parent who can look upon the thousand temptations of city life which lure young men away from habits of so-berity and virtue and say that he has no interest in an Association like this? Or is there any merchant who can say, with the history of such men as Schny-ler and Huntington and Little staring him in the face, that the commercial community has no need of an influence like this to shield and establish the character of our young merchants and our merchants' clerks? This Association appeals to men of every class, for its benefits are to all alike. It is under no sectarian influence, it has no denominational bias. It leaves the discussion of theology to engage in works of benevolence, and with such noble ends in view, it is scarcely necessary to appeal to our citizens in its behalf. It is a duty that we owe to ourselves to sustain it with our means and to endeavor to widen its field of influence.

UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The fifth annual meeting of the United States Agricultural Society will be held at the rooms of the Smithsonian Institution, in the city of Washington, January 14th, 1857. Important business will come before the meeting. A lecture will be delivered on the application of Science to Agriculture, by Prof. Henry, of the Smithsonian Institution. Another lecture on the Grasses of the United States, will be given by Charles L. Flint, Esq., secretary of the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture. The various agricultural societies in the United States are requested to send delegates to the meeting, and all gentlemen who are interested in the welfare of American agriculture, who would promote a more cordial spirit of intercourse between the farmers in different portions of our land, are invited to be present.

We hope that the meeting of the Southwestern Agricultural Association to-day will take some action on this matter.

Thomas Lester and James Farley two of the white men submerged in the coal pits of Midlothian, Chesterfield county, Virginia, have been recovered.

Though very weak, they were still able to walk.

The recovery of these two men has infused new

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river has commenced falling. It had receded about an inch and a half last evening, when there were three feet ten inches water on the falls, and about seven feet in the canal. The weather was warm yesterday, and towards night we had a sprinkling of rain. It is expected that the river will be again on the rise to-day.

The steamer Tennessee Belle, which, grounded on the falls on Thursday, was got off yesterday morning without damage.

The Highflyer.—This fine boat leaves for New Orleans to-day. She has excellent accommodations, and is well officered. Capt. Wright and Mr. Halliday are careful and attentive officers, and care well for their passengers.

The David White may arrive before our paper goes to press. If she does not, she will be here early this morning. The White leaves for New Orleans to-morrow morning, without fail. She was thoroughly repaired during the summer, painted and newly furnished throughout, and she is now one of the finest passenger packets in the trade. Captain McGill is an energetic and courteous officer, and has his passengers provided for sumptuously. Messrs.

"SELLING OFF AT COST" seems to be all the rage now. At store entrances and windows, in showcases, and everywhere, you see every where, and what does it mean? Can there be any mercantile philosophy in selling without profit? Is it a new affair to give reasons? Gentlemen want to get rid of old stock, or they can't stand the tide in the money-drawer, or they have made already profit enough! The latter may be possible, people say, but hardly possible, not even in the jewelry business.

Now selling at cost does not absolutely mean cheap, since

LATEST NEWS.

BAROMETER.

Last night, 12 o'clock : To-day, 12 o'clock.

29.48. 29.83.

A MYSTERIOUS AND TRAGIC AFFAIR—SUSPECTED

MURDER, ARSON, AND ROBBERY.—A very mysterious and tragic occurrence is said to have taken place on Thursday night last, about 1 o'clock A. M., on Briar creek, near the line of Bullitt and Jefferson counties.

The dwelling house of Mrs. Joyce, about fifteen miles from Louisville, was destroyed by fire. Amid the ruins have been discovered the remains of Mrs. Joyce, a very old lady, her widowed daughter, Mrs. Welch, one of her sons, and a child of Mrs. Welch. These were all the inmates of the house at the time. Another son of Mrs. Joyce was absent at a wedding some ten miles distant.

From the facts that this one of the young Joyces had just returned from the South with a thousand dollars in money which he had left in the house, and that the remains of Mrs. Joyce and her family were found in positions indicating that they had made no effort to escape, it is suspected that they were murdered and the house set on fire to conceal the crime.

The David White.—This splendid steamer was detained by the storm and did not reach here till noon to-day. We are indebted to Mr. Mitchell for copies of the manifest and memorandum and a New Orleans paper of the 13th. The White will not leave till Monday.

THE FAIR AT THE UNION ENGINE HOUSE.—The ladies attached to the Ladies' Benevolent Society are holding a fair at the Union Engine House. The object of the fair is to raise a fund for the charitable purposes of the Society. We have often been told that "He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord," and this enterprise appeals loudly and meritoriously to the benevolence of our city. An opportunity is thus afforded them to derive actual and immediate profit and amusement from the bread cast upon the waters. The Hall is nightly crowded with charming ladies, whose bright eyes and winsome ways add greatly to the attractions of the fair. For the gratification of those who love to tread a merry measure, the entertainment is concluded every evening with a cotillon party. All who wish to find real social pleasure while they are contributing to a noble purpose should be sure to visit the fair.

A HOAX.—The good people of Franklin, Indiana, have been most egregiously imposed upon. The Republican, printed in that place, of Friday last, says that a woman, who calls herself Madame Helen Sascha, had arrived there from Jackson, Miss., who states that she had resided in that place for eight years; M. Sascha, her husband, having avowed his partiality for Fremont for President, was waited upon by a deputation of men, who informed him that he must cease propagating his principles, which he declined to do. One of the men then took hold of him, when M. Sascha knocked him down, and was shot down by one Orhray. She received notice to leave forthwith. The woman had a recommendation to a citizen of Franklin, and a subscription was made up for her to reach her parents in New York. We receive papers from Jackson and other parts of Mississippi, and have not seen any such occurrence mentioned in them. We believe the whole story is false.

LOUISIANA INTELLIGENCE.—The Donaldsonville Vigilant of the 12th says:

Most of the planters in the neighborhood of this place have decided to sell their slaves, and to send them to the States, where they will be sold at auction, and the proceeds will be used to pay the debts of the planters. This is a very wise and humane measure, and will do much to improve the condition of the colored population of Louisiana.

On the large plantations, where great quantities of the plant cane were put in, the yield will be somewhat larger. The quantity which will be made on some of the largest plantations (Col. J. S. Preston (two sugar-houses), 800 hogsheads Henry Lloyd, 500 on his home place, and about 100 on the plantation of Mr. Estate of Gen. T. B. 250; Duncan F. Kenner, 300; J. S. Mier, 100; Trus, Landry (two plantations), 350.

These figures may fall below or exceed the actual numbers, but we feel convinced the figures will not be very great.

An acquaintance, from the adjoining parish of Assumption, informed us, a day or two ago, that a plot of the slaves in that section had been discovered, which, if it had been completed, would have produced the most disastrous results.

On the large plantations, where great quantities of the plant cane were put in, the yield will be somewhat larger. The quantity which will be made on some of the largest plantations (Col. J. S.
